

HLTAID002 Provide Basic Emergency Life Support

Course Objective

This unit of competency describes the skills and knowledge required to recognise and respond to life threatening emergencies using basic life support measures only.

Course Content

Topics include: assessment and safety, severe bleeding, chest pain, respiratory emergencies, shock and severe allergic reaction, anaphylaxis, choking, cross infection, management of the unresponsive victim, cardiopulmonary resuscitation (CPR), strokes, burns basic orientation to first aid in the workplace.

Selection Criteria

The principles of Access & equity will be applied in the selection of students and in the delivery of the training and assessment services.

However, participants must have basic English-speaking skills and reading skills which will be evaluated during the enrolment process. They must also have the strength and agility to manage CPR and other emergency situations.

Assessment

All assessment will be based on the principles of competency-based training and assessment. You will participate in both theory and practical sessions, which will be followed by a skills assessment using bandages, manikins and certain other items to perform first aid techniques.

Additional Support

Where students require additional welfare or counseling support they will be referred to appropriate professional agencies.

Recognition of Prior Learning

If you hold a current first aid award to equivalent standards you may be exempted from this course.

National Recognition

DAN AP recognises relevant AQF qualifications and Statements of Attainment issued by other Registered Training Organisations (RTOs).

Course Delivery

The nominal duration of the course is six hours and it may be delivered in a single block or a several shorter blocks.

The delivery and assessment methods used will be tailored to the specific training environment and the needs of the client group.
